FOREWORD

IN THIS TWENTY-THIRD volume of the TECOAN we present to you a pictorial year of life at East Carolina Teachers College. We have tried to make it representative. Our college days will soon be gone and we will join that group of people called the "Alumni of E. C. T. C." It is our hope that in years to come this book will afford some joy by recalling to you old acquaintances and experiences, and if, by chance, you gain some inspiration from these pages, our work shall not have been in vain.

This is your Yearbook, and it is through your cooperation that the 1945 TECOAN has been published. We hope you like it.

DEDICATION

To Dr. Paul A. Toll, in recognition of his great service rendered to East Carolina Teachers College, we dedicate the nineteen hundred forty-five Tecoan. During the nine years that Dr. Toll has been a professor at this institution, students have learned to know and love him as a teacher, adviser, and friend. So it is with the greatest respect and utmost esteem that we dedicate this book to him.

HOWARD J. MCGINNIS
Acting President

The President

DEAR SENIORS:

We have been delighted to have you as citizens on the campus at East Carolina Teachers College during the past four years. Your Alma Mater and the State of North Carolina will profit by your having been here. Commencement day will conclude, for some of you, your college experience with its pleasant associations. Its opportunities for the acquisition of knowledge and the development of personal skills, habits and attitudes under faculty guidance become for you now a pleasant memory. I hope the experience has been all and more than you expected when you came as a Freshman; that it has contributed abundantly to the enrichment of your personalities; that you may reap the fruits of this experience during each succeeding year of your lives; and that you may be able and willing to share these fruits to enrich the lives of others who have been less fortunate. May your influence, skill and talents be given generously to help lift a stricken world from its present unfortunate plight into the light of a better day.

HOWARD J. MCGINNIS, Acting President.

Administration

THE COLLEGE CANNOT guarantee success to every student who enters its doors. All it guarantees is opportunity, guidance, companionship and good will. I trust you have made use of the opportunities offered, and that you have gained much from your stay at East Carolina Teachers College.

ANNIE L. MORTON.

TO YOU TO WHOM commencement this year will mean most—congratulations. May it be a commencement in the truest sense of the word, and may your four years at East Carolina Teachers College have greatly increased within you higher ideals, higher morals, and a keener desire with a stronger determination to do your utmost to make this unsettled world a happier place in which to live. May your lives be challenges to all who follow you here.

WENDELL W. SMILEY, Counselor to Men.

SENIOR CLASS

Muriel Whitehurst, Vice-President

We are the second War Class. When we enrolled as Freshmen in the fall of 1941, there were three hundred and one girls and thirty-seven boys. In the fall of 1944, the Senior class enrollment numbered one hundred and fifty-four girls and three boys. Although the war has kept us from being a normal class, there has been no lack of school spirit or cooperation. Instead, our class has always shown a spirit of cooperation and leadership comparable to that of any other group of students on our campus.

For four years we have worked together—hard, faithfully, and patiently. It was with the help and guidance of our competent advisers, Miss Pearl Chapman and Dr. M. N. Posey, that we have successfully sponsored five dances and our Senior play. We have been a busy class—a class that has striven to uphold the high standards set by the classes which preceded us.

To those of us who were called upon to serve our country in war, we wish a safe return. Though you could not graduate with us we feel that you are with us still—members of a class that will do its best to carry on in the free and peaceful nation you are so bravely trying to preserve.

JUNIOR

Margaret Person, Vice-President

We Juniors began our class in September, 1942, as Freshmen, with a total number of two hundred and seventy-seven, thirty-nine of whom were boys. Four our Freshman officers we chose Mozelle Hooks, President; Margaret Johnston, Vice-President; Dorothy Jean Creech, Secretary, and Robert Morgan, Treasurer.

As Sophomores we numbered two hundred and five, thirteen being boys. The officers for 1943-44 were Evelyn Lewis, President; Marjorie Smith, Vice-President; Dorey Jones, Secretary, and Bernice Godley, Treasurer.

Our Junior Class of 1944-45 boasts one hundred and seventy-five members, ten of whom are boys.

A number of the Junior Class members have contributed to the war effort by rolling bandages, buying war bonds, and participating in such drives as those for the World Student Service Fund and the Red Cross.

The Juniors claim a large percentage not only of the members but also of the officers of clubs and organizations on the campus.

The class entertained the Freshmen at a dance during the winter quarter and will sponsor the Junior-Senior dance in early spring.

DOROTHY PEEBLES, Vice-President

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS of East Carolina Teachers College is now two years old. During its Freshman year the class sponsored the Freshman-Junior Dance and several parties and took an active part in many student affairs.

At the beginning of the new school year, 1944-45, the Sophomore Class had several new members and a new group of officers. The faculty advisers are Dr. R. J. Slay and Dr. Karl V. Gilbert.

The Sophomore-Senior Dance, given on December 9, 1944, by the Sophomore Class in honor of the Senior Class, was a gala affair with Wintertime as the theme. This and other activities of the class will long be remembered, and each one will be proud to say, "I was a member of the Sophomore Class of East Carolina Teachers College in the year 1944-45."

This Sophomore Class will be remembered for many things, but its outstanding virtue is the ability to work together in any undertaking, no matter how large or small the task may be. From this virtue has come the success of the Sophomore Class, and with this year of success behind us we look forward to our Junior year of working and succeeding together.

FRESHMAN

Jean Hull, Vice-President

One year of college life gone by—and what a year this has been.

It all began for us last fall with a week of orientation—a week of seeing new faces and finding our way around in a new place, a week of rushing from meeting to meeting, a week of meeting new people who have become our friends and classmates.

It wasn't long before we found out what the required courses were and what Registration Day meant. We learned about dormitory meetings, mass meetings, council meetings, club meetings, and meetings of all kinds. We attended handbook classes every night for a week and then took a test on all the rules and regulations. Then came Rush Week with all of its crazy initiations, but we lived through that, too.

Classes started and we worked very enthusiastically. After the first week or two, we felt like veterans going from class to class. We were no longer homesick and we were learning to love college life.

During the year we elected our class officers; we sponsored a dance honoring the Juniors; we joined the different organizations, we participated in school activities and took part in the athletic programs; and we did our school work in a very commendable manner.

Now that we have successfully completed our Freshman year, we are ready to venture into the second year of our college life.

AMANDA ETHERIDGE
President of Student Cooperative Government Association

Student Cooperative Council

THE STUDENT COOPERATIVE COUNCIL OF 1944-45 has endeavored to serve the student body of East Carolina Teachers College in a diligent democratic manner as the legislative branch of the Student Cooperative Government Association. These efforts have not always resulted in effective government, but perhaps they have advanced a little further the principles of democratic intelligent self-government.

MARJORIE PRIVOTT
Chairman of Women's Judiciary

Women's Judiciary

THE WOMEN'S JUDICIARY of East Carolina Teachers College is composed of nine members elected by the student body. The function of this body is to handle all disciplinary cases of women students. In an effort to maintain high standards of conduct on our campus, the Judiciary meets every week to discuss problems of major and minor importance. This year's work has been very successful.

BEVERLY CUTLER
Chairman of Men's Judiciary

Men's Judiciary

THE PURPOSE OF THE MEN'S JUDICIARY is to act as a judicial body in all matters concerning discipline of men students. Because of the war and the present national emergency only a small number of men students enrolled for 1944-45; therefore the activities of the judiciary were greatly reduced.

Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian Association was organized on the campus in 1909. With a present membership of approximately three hundred, it continues to be the largest organization on the campus. The Friday and Sunday night vesper services provide opportunities for the students to use their talents creatively. The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. have cooperated in sponsoring Religious Emphasis Week and the World Student Service Fund, as well as in bringing noted lecturers, travelers, and other speakers to the campus.

In spite of the small number of men students on the campus this year the Y. M. C. A. has had a very successful year. Approximately ninety-five per cent of the dormitory students joined the "Y" this year.

Working with the Y. W. C. A., the "Y" has constantly tried to keep religious activities before all the students. During the fall, the two organizations sponsored the World Student Service Fund drive and Religious Emphasis Week. At intervals throughout the entire year, the two "Y's" brought to the campus outstanding religious speakers, including Dr. Sherwood Eddy, lecturer and author.

As a part of the year's activities, the Young Men's Christian Association mailed Christmas cards to former East Carolina Teachers College students who are now in service. The "Y" also sponsored devotionals in the boy's dormitory for the benefit of the dormitory students. In December the "Y" in cooperation with the Counselor to Men gave a buffet supper for all men students.

THE STUDENTS MAJORING in the various courses offered at E. C. T. C. have organized for their own benefit and enjoyment departmental clubs. The active clubs are the Commerce Club, English Club, Home Economics Club, Mathematics Club, Science Club, International Relations Club, Association for Childhood Education, Future Teachers of America, Jarvis Forensic Club, Alumni Sons and Daughters, Alpha Alpha Sigma, Phi Sigma Pi, Sigma Pi Alpha, Pi Omega Pi, and the Chi Pi Players.

The college motto "To Serve" is upheld better no place on the campus than in the departmental clubs as it is the aim and objective of every organization to serve our country, our community, our school, and members.

The purpose of the departmental organizations is both educational and social. The different groups study their particular subjects and related topics. They gather and disseminate knowledge of the modern movements and trends, promote the progressive type of education, and attempt to raise the standard of the professional training for teachers and leaders. The clubs strive to help its members to become better acquainted with one another by bringing them together and affording opportunities for closer associations. The best traditions of the school are supported and intellectual activities are encouraged. Scholarship, citizenship, and desirable character traits are recognized and emphasized. Cooperation among the students in order to do a definite job is one of the fine practices of the clubs and each student is given an opportunity to develop his talents and express himself.

The organizations have a regular time each month for their meetings. Special meetings and social gatherings are held in addition to the scheduled ones. The programs are varied and interesting consisting of student, faculty, and outside speakers, games, debates, and programs for fun.

Each student is encouraged to join the organization of his major subject. The requirements for membership are stated in the club's constitution which has been approved by the Student Cooperative Council. The officers and advisers are elected by the members of the club. The president is a member of the Student Cooperative Council.

The work of the departmental organizations is very profitable to the school and to each student. The above pictures are of the leaders of the departmental organizations.

Publications Board

THE PUBLICATIONS BOARD consists of two members at large from the student body, the editors, business managers, and faculty advisers of the three publications on our campus—the TECOAN, the Teco Echo, and the Pieces O' Eight.

The Board has tried to give the students an opportunity to express their opinions, has encouraged creative and imaginative writing, and has offered journalistic experience to the interested students. The work of this body is a tradition which we hope will have an everlasting life at East Carolina Teachers College.

and because of other handicaps, it has been difficult to make every part of this book just as you might like to have it. We have tried to make the 1945 TECOAN a forerunner for bigger and better annuals in years to follow, and we hope it is one you can be proud of and enjoy.

The business staff is justly proud of the amount of advertising it has obtained this year, and is grateful to the firms who have helped to make the publication of the 1945 TECOAN a financial success.

We wish to express our appreciation to our advisers, Dr. R. J. Slay and Dr. E. R. Browning, and to Miss Lucile Turner for helping the staff in the publication of the 1945 TECOAN.

THE TECO ECHO

DURING THE PAST YEAR the Teco Echo has tried to live up to the best standards that have been set up by former students. It has upheld the principles of a free press, given in an unbiased way about the news, students, teachers, and alumni, and offered to future journalists experience in news writing.

PIECES O' EIGHT

THE AIM OF Pieces O' Eight this year has been to make it a magazine that the students appreciate and enjoy. Contributions have come from wide and varied sources and by working together, we have given and gained new ideas. The magazine has tried to provide an escape from the war by humorous and witty features, but also, to broaden and enlighten the mind with more serious and informative subjects. Pieces O' Eight belongs to the students and we have endeavored to help the students realize this by participation and interest.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

POE SOCIETY

THE EDGAR ALLAN POE SOCIETY had as its feature of the year the mid-winter dance which was carried out in the patriotic motif. In cooperation with the Laniers and Emersons, the Poes sponsored the May Day Program, the main event of the year for the three societies.

EMERSON SOCIETY

The Ralph Waldo Emerson Society has tried through programs based on some study of selected writings and of the biography of Emerson to stimulate more mature thinking and a better understanding of the possibility of making our own intuition and initiative contribute to better citizenship.

Wherever possible we have helped to entertain the artists and service men who have been guests of the college; we have helped in Red Cross work and war fund drives; we held our yearly dance in the spring; and we, in cooperation with the two other literary societies, had a very impressive May Day Program.

LANIER SOCIETY

During the school year of 1944-45, the Sidney Lanier Society has sought through its regular programs to instill within the minds and hearts of its members a deeper appreciation for Lanier, that great Southern poet. In addition to these programs, the two activities in which one hundred Laniers have been most interested are the fall dance with a Christmas theme which our society sponsored and the May Day Program on which we worked in cooperation with the other societies.

The Laniers have had a happy and profitable time together, and they expect next year to be even better.

ASSOCIATION

THE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, one of the largest and most outstanding organizations on the campus, has had quite a successful year under the leadership of our advisers, Miss Nell Stallings and Miss Frances Alex, and our president, Dorothy Peele.

This year marked some advantageous changes for our organization. We put into action the new Constitution—making all girls on the campus associate members of this organization.

We donated to the fund for the bronze statue in honor of Coach Christenbury.

Every student on the campus has the opportunity to, and is urged to take part in the activities. Competition between the dormitories reaches its climax when the varsity teams are chosen and the award is presented to the individual dormitory with the greatest number of points.

It is the purpose of this organization to provide a variety of activities for the recreation and pleasure of every student on campus.
